

EDWARD P. MORSE, JR.,
GETS JURY AWARD*Wins Case Against Drydock Company for Profits.

A jury before Supreme Court Justice Faber in Brooklyn returned a verdict yesterday in favor of Edward P. Morse, Jr., who sued the Morse Drydock and Repair Company of South Brooklyn, of which his father, Edward P. Morse, Sr., is the head, for $427,000.

The exact amount that the company is directed to pay cannot be determined until a referee examines the company's books and decides what the net profits were for 1916, 1917 and 1918. In his suit young Morse contended that the net profits for the three years in question were $250,000. This his father denied. It is believed that the son will receive at least $250,000 by the judgment. He declared that the sum he asked, $427,000, was due him under an oral contract he made with his father in 1916 and by which he was to receive 2 per cent. of the annual net profits in addition to his salary of $6,000 as superintendent. He was discharged in 1918.

BIG BATTLESHIPS BACK.Pennsylvania, Arizona, North Dakota and Oklahoma Return.

The battleships Pennsylvania, Arizona, North Dakota and Oklahoma of the Atlantic fleet arrived here yesterday, having completed big gun practice off the Virginia Capes. With the exception of the Oklahoma, which anchored in the Hudson River, the warships docked at the navy yard.

After being paid off, it is understood that the members of the crews of the battleships will be given a long shore leave.
